THE EPISTLE OF

JUDE

General Salutation. "Contend earnestly for the Faith." The Warnings of History to the Ungodly

1 [1] [a]Jude, a [2] [b]servant of Jesus Christ, and brother of [3]James, [4]to [c]them that are called, beloved in God the Father, and [d]kept for Jesus Christ: 2 [e]Mercy unto you and peace and love [f]be multiplied.

3 [g]Beloved, while I was giving all diligence to write unto you of our [h]common salvation, I was constrained to write unto you exhorting you to [i]contend earnestly for [k]the faith which was once for all [l]delivered unto [m]the saints. 4 For there are certain men [n]crept in privily, even they who were of old [o]written of beforehand unto this condemnation, ungodly men, turning [p]the grace of our God into [q]lasciviousness, and [r]denying [6]our only Master and Lord, Jesus Christ.

5 Now I desire to [s]put you in remembrance, though [t]ye know all things once for all, that [7]the Lord, [u]having saved a people out of the land of Egypt, [8]afterward destroyed them that believed not. 6 And [v]angels that kept not their own principality, but left their proper habitation, he hath [x]kept in everlasting bonds under darkness unto the judgment of the great day. 7 Even as [y]Sodom and Gomorrah, and the [z]cities about them, having in like manner with these given themselves over to fornication and [a]gone after strange flesh, are set forth [9]as an [b]example, suffering the [c]punishment of eternal fire. 8 Yet in like manner these also in their dreamings [d]defile the flesh, and [d]set at nought dominion, and [d]rail at [10]dignities. 9 But [e]Michael [f]the archangel, when contending with the devil he disputed about [g]the body of Moses, durst not bring against him a railing judgment, but said, [h]The Lord rebuke thee. 10 But [i]these rail at whatsoever things they know not: and [k]what they understand naturally, [l]like the creatures without reason, in these things are they [11]destroyed. 11 Woe unto them! for they went in [t]the way of Cain, and [12]ran riotously in [m]the error of Balaam for hire, and [n]perished in the gainsaying of Korah. 12 These are they who are [13]hidden rocks [o]in your love-feasts when they feast with you, [p]shepherds that without fear feed themselves; [q]clouds without water, [r]carried along by winds; autumn trees without fruit, twice dead, [s]plucked up by the roots; 13 [t]wild waves of the sea, foaming out [u]their own [14]shame; wandering stars, [v]for whom the blackness of darkness hath been reserved for ever. 14 And to these also [x]Enoch, the seventh from Adam, prophesied, saying, [y]Behold, the Lord came with [15]ten thousands of his holy ones, 15 [z]to execute judgment upon all, and to convict all the ungodly of all their works of ungodliness which they have ungodly wrought, and of all the hard things which [a]ungodly sinners have spoken against him. 16 These are [b]murmurers, complainers, [c]walking after their lusts (and their mouth speaketh [d]great swelling words), showing respect of persons [e]for the sake of advantage.

17 But ye, [a] beloved, [b] remember ye the words which have been spoken before by [c] the apostles of our Lord Jesus Christ; 18 that they said to you, [d] In the last time there shall be mockers, [e] walking after [1] their own ungodly lusts. 19 These are they who make separations, [2f] sensual, having not the Spirit. 20 But ye, [a] beloved, [g] building up yourselves on your most holy [a] faith, [h] praying in the Holy Spirit, 21 keep yourselves in the love of God, [i] looking for the mercy of our Lord Jesus Christ unto eternal life. 22 [3] And on some have mercy, [4] who are in doubt; 23 and some save, [k] snatching them out of the fire; and on some have mercy with fear; [l] hating even the garment spotted by the flesh.

24 [m] Now unto him that is able to guard you from stumbling, and to [n] set you before the presence of his glory without blemish in [o] exceeding joy, 25 to the [p] only [q] God our Saviour, through Jesus Christ our Lord, [r] be glory, majesty, dominion and power, [s] before all time, and now, and [5] for evermore. Amen.
