THE SONG OF SOLOMON

The Bride speaks with the Daughters of Jerusalem. The Loving Converse of the Bride with the Bridegroom

1 The Song of [a]songs, which is Solomon's.

2 Let him kiss me with the kisses of his mouth;
For thy [b]love is better than wine.
3 Thine [c]oils have a goodly fragrance;
Thy [d]name is as oil poured forth;
Therefore do the [1e]virgins love thee.
4 Draw me; we will run after thee:
The [f]king hath brought me into his chambers;
We will be glad and rejoice in thee;
We will make mention of thy [b]love more than of wine:
[2]Rightly do they love thee.

5 I am black, but [g]comely,
O ye [h]daughters of Jerusalem,
As the [i]tents of [k]Kedar,
As the curtains of Solomon.
6 Look not upon me, because I am swarthy,
Because the sun hath [3]scorched me.
My [l]mother's sons were incensed against me;
They made me [m]keeper of the vineyards;
But mine own vineyard have I not kept.
7 Tell me, O thou [n]whom my soul loveth,
Where thou [o]feedest thy flock,
Where thou makest it to [p]rest at noon:
For why should I be as one that is veiled
Beside the flocks of [q]thy companions?

8 If thou know not, O [r]thou fairest among women,
Go thy way forth by the footsteps of the flock,
And feed thy kids beside the shepherds' tents.

9 I have compared thee, O [4s]my love,
[5]To a [t]steed in Pharaoh's chariots.
10 Thy [u]cheeks are comely with plaits of hair,
Thy neck with strings of [v]jewels.
11 We will make thee plaits of gold
With studs of silver.

12 While the king sat at his table,
My [x]spikenard sent forth its fragrance.
13 My beloved is unto me as a [6]bundle of [y]myrrh,
That lieth betwixt my breasts.
14 My beloved is unto me as a cluster of [7z]henna-flowers
In the vineyards of [a]En-gedi.

15 Behold, [b]thou art fair, my love;
Behold, thou art fair;
[8]Thine [c]eyes are as doves.

16 Behold, thou art fair, [d]my beloved, yea, pleasant:
Also our couch is green.
17 The beams of our [9]house are [10e]cedars,
And our rafters are [11f]firs.

2 I am a [12g]rose of [13h]Sharon,
A [i]lily of the valleys.

2 As a lily among thorns,
So is [k]my love among the daughters.

3 As the [l]apple-tree among the trees of the wood,
So is my beloved among the sons.
I [14]sat down under his shadow with great delight,
And his [m]fruit was sweet to my taste.

They seek and find each other. The Bridal Procession

4 He [a] brought me to the [1] banqueting-house,
And his [b] banner over me was love.
5 Stay ye me with [2c] raisins, refresh me with [d] apples;
For [e] I am sick from love.
6 [3f] His left hand is under my head,
And [f] his right hand doth [g] embrace me.
7 I [h] adjure you, O [i] daughters of Jerusalem,
By the [4k] roes, or by the [l] hinds of the field,
[h] That ye stir not up, nor awake my love,
Until [5] he please.

8 The voice of my beloved! behold, he cometh,
Leaping [m] upon the mountains,
Skipping upon the hills.
9 My beloved is like a [6k] roe or a [n] young hart:
Behold, he standeth behind our wall;
He looketh in at the windows;
He glanceth [o] through the lattice.

10 My beloved spake, and said unto me,
[p] Rise up, my love, my fair one, and come away.
11 For, lo, the winter is past;
The rain is over and gone;
12 The flowers appear on the earth;
The time of the [7] singing of birds is come,
And the voice of the [q] turtle-dove is heard in our land;
13 The [r] fig-tree ripeneth her green figs,
And the [s] vines are in blossom;
They give forth their fragrance.
Arise, my love, my fair one, and come away.
14 O [t] my dove, that art [u] in the clefts of the rock,
In the covert of the steep place,
Let me see thy countenance,
[v] Let me hear thy voice;
For sweet is thy voice, and thy countenance is [x] comely.

15 Take us the foxes, the little foxes,
That spoil the vineyards;
For our [y] vineyards are in blossom.
16 [z] My beloved is mine, and I am his:
He [a] feedeth his flock among the lilies.
17 [8b] Until the day [9] be cool, and the shadows flee away,
Turn, my beloved, and be thou like a [6c] roe or a young hart
[d] Upon the [10] mountains of [11] Bether.

3 By night on my bed
I sought him [e] whom my soul loveth:
I [f] sought him, but I found him not.
2 I said, I will rise now, and go about the city;
In the [g] streets and in the broad ways
I will seek him whom my soul loveth:
I sought him, but I found him not.
3 [h] The watchmen that go about the city found me;
To whom I said, Saw ye him whom my soul loveth?
4 It was but a little that I passed from them,
When I found him whom my soul loveth:
I held him, and would not let him go,
Until I had [i] brought him into my mother's house,
And into the chamber of her that conceived me.

5 [k] I adjure you, O daughters of Jerusalem,
By the [l] roes, or by the hinds of the field,
That ye stir not up, nor awake my love,
Until [5] he please.

6 [m] Who is this that cometh up from the wilderness
Like [n] pillars of smoke,
Perfumed with [o] myrrh and [p] frankincense,
With all powders of the merchant?

7 Behold, it is the litter of Solomon;
Threescore mighty men are about it,
Of the mighty men of Israel.

The Bridal Procession. Praise of the Bride, and her Response, at the Marriage Feast

8 They all handle the sword, and are [a]expert in war:
Every man hath his [b]sword upon his thigh,
Because of [c]fear in the night.
9 King Solomon made himself a [1]palanquin
Of the wood of Lebanon.
10 He made the pillars thereof of silver,
The bottom thereof of gold, the seat of it of purple,
The midst thereof being [2]paved with love,
From the [d]daughters of Jerusalem.
11 Go forth, O ye [e]daughters of Zion, and behold king Solomon,
With the crown wherewith his mother hath crowned him
In the [f]day of his espousals,
And in the day of the gladness of his heart.

4 Behold, [g]thou art fair, my love; behold, thou art fair;
[3]Thine [h]eyes are as doves [i]behind thy [4]veil.
Thy [k]hair is as a flock of goats,
That [5]lie along the side of mount [l]Gilead.
2 Thy [m]teeth are like a flock of ewes that are newly shorn,
Which are come up from the washing,
[6]Whereof every one hath twins,
And none is bereaved among them.
3 Thy lips are like a [n]thread of scarlet,
And thy [7][o]mouth is comely.
Thy [p]temples are like a piece of a pomegranate
Behind thy [4]veil.
4 Thy [q]neck is like the tower of David
Builded [8]for an [r]armory,
Whereon there [s]hang a thousand bucklers,
All the [t]shields of the mighty men.
5 Thy [u]two breasts are like two fawns
That are twins of a [9]roe,
Which [v]feed among the lilies.

6 [x]Until the day be cool, and the shadows flee away,
I will get me to the mountain of [y]myrrh,
And to the hill of [y]frankincense.

7 [z]Thou art all fair, my love;
And there is no spot in thee.
8 Come with me from [a]Lebanon, my [b]bride,
With me from Lebanon:
[10]Look from the top of [c]Amana,
From the top of [d]Senir and Hermon,
From the lions' dens,
From the mountains of the leopards.
9 Thou hast [11]ravished my heart, [e]my sister, my bride;
Thou hast [11]ravished my heart with [12]one of thine eyes,
With one [f]chain of thy neck.
10 [g]How fair is thy love, my sister, my bride!
How much [h]better is thy love than wine!
And the [i]fragrance of thine oils than all manner of spices!
11 Thy lips, O my bride, [13][k]drop as the [l]honeycomb:
Honey and milk are under thy tongue;
And the smell of thy garments is like the [m]smell of Lebanon.
12 A garden [14]shut up is my sister, my bride;
A spring shut up, a [n]fountain [o]sealed.
13 Thy shoots are [15][p]an orchard of [q]pomegranates, with [r]precious fruits;
[s]Henna with spikenard plants,
14 [t]Spikenard and saffron,
[u]Calamus and cinnamon, with all trees of [v]frankincense;
[x]Myrrh and aloes, with all the chief spices.
15 Thou art a fountain of gardens,
A well of [y]living waters,
And flowing streams from Lebanon.

16 Awake, O north wind; and come, thou south;
Blow upon my [z]garden, that the spices thereof may flow out.
Let [a]my beloved come into his garden,
And eat his [b]precious fruits.

The Bridegroom's Response. The Temporary Separation. Mutual Praise of the Bridegroom and the Bride

5 I am [a] come into my garden,
[b] my sister, my bride:
I have gathered my [c] myrrh
with my [1] spice;
I have eaten my [d] honeycomb
with my honey;
I have [e] drunk my wine with my milk.
Eat, O [f] friends;
Drink, yea, drink abundantly,
[2] O beloved.

2 I [3] was asleep, but my heart
waked:
It is the voice of my beloved that knocketh, saying,
Open to me, [g] my sister, my love,
[h] my dove, my [4] undefiled;
For my head is filled with dew,
My [i] locks with the drops of the night.
3 I have [k] put off my garment;
how shall I put it on?
I have [l] washed my feet; how shall I defile them?
4 My beloved put in his hand by the hole of the door,
And my [5] [m] heart was moved for him.
5 I rose up to open to my beloved;
And my hands [n] dropped with
myrrh,
And my fingers with liquid
myrrh,
Upon the handles of the bolt.
6 I opened to my beloved;
But my beloved had [6] [o] withdrawn himself, and was gone.
My soul [7] had failed me when he [p] spake:
I [q] sought him, but I could not find him;
I [r] called him, but he gave me
no answer.
7 The [s] watchmen that go about the city found me,
They smote me, they wounded
me;
The keepers of the walls took away my [8] mantle from me.
8 I [t] adjure you, O daughters of Jerusalem,
If ye find my beloved,
[9] That ye tell him, that [u] I am sick from love.

9 What is thy beloved more than
another beloved,
O thou [v] fairest among women?
What is thy beloved more than
another beloved,
That thou dost so adjure us?

10 My beloved is white and [x] ruddy,
[10] The [y] chiefest among ten thousand.
11 His head is as the most fine gold;
His [z] locks are [11] bushy, and black as a raven.
12 His [a] eyes are like doves beside the water-brooks,
Washed with milk, and [12] fitly
[b] set.
13 His cheeks are as a [c] bed of
[1] spices,
As [13] banks of sweet herbs:
His lips are as [d] lilies, [e] dropping liquid myrrh.
14 His hands are as [14] rings of gold set with [15] [f] beryl:
His body is as [16] ivory work
[17] overlaid with [g] sapphires.
15 His legs are as pillars of marble, set upon sockets of fine
gold:
His aspect is like [h] Lebanon,
excellent as the [i] cedars.
16 His [18] [k] mouth is most sweet;
Yea, he is altogether [l] lovely.
This is my beloved, and this is my friend,
O daughters of Jerusalem.

6 [m] Whither is thy beloved
gone,
O thou [n] fairest among women?
Whither hath thy beloved turned him,
That we may seek him with thee?

2 My beloved is gone down to his [o] garden,
To the [p] beds of [1] spices,
To [q] feed in the gardens, and to gather [r] lilies.
3 [s] I am my beloved's, and my beloved is mine:
He [t] feedeth his flock among the lilies.

4 [u] Thou art fair, O my love, as [v] Tirzah,
[x] Comely as [y] Jerusalem,
[z] Terrible as [19] an army with banners.

7 How beautiful are thy [10] feet in sandals, O [p] prince's daughter!
Thy rounded thighs are like jewels,
The work of the hands of a skilful workman.
2 Thy body is like a round goblet,
Wherein no mingled wine is wanting:
Thy waist is like a heap of wheat
Set about with lilies.
3 Thy [q] two breasts are like two fawns
That are twins of a roe.
4 Thy [r] neck is like the tower of ivory;
Thine eyes as the pools in [s] Heshbon,
By the gate of Bath-rabbim;
Thy nose is like the tower of Lebanon
Which looketh toward Damascus.
5 Thy head upon thee is like [t] Carmel,
And the hair of thy head like purple;
The king is held captive in the tresses thereof.
6 How [u] fair and how pleasant art thou,
O love, for delights!
7 This thy stature is like to a palm-tree,
And thy breasts to its clusters.
8 I said, I will climb up into the palm-tree,
I will take hold of the branches thereof:
Let thy breasts be as clusters of the vine,
And the smell of thy [11] breath like [v] apples,
9 And thy [12] [x] mouth like the best wine,

That [y] goeth down [13] smoothly for my beloved,
[14] Gliding through the lips of those that are asleep.
10 [z] I am my beloved's;
And his [a] desire is toward me.
11 Come, my beloved, let us go forth into the field;
Let us lodge in the villages.
12 Let us get up early to the vineyards;

Union of the Bridegroom and the Bride in Invincible Love

Let us [a] see whether the vine hath budded,
And [1] its blossom is open,
And the pomegranates are in flower:
There will I give thee my love.
13 The [b] mandrakes give forth fragrance;
And [2] at our doors are all manner of [c] precious fruits, new and old,
Which I have laid up for thee, O my beloved.

8 Oh that thou wert as my brother,
That sucked the breasts of my mother!
When I should find thee without, I would kiss thee;
Yea, and none would despise me.
2 I would lead thee, and [d] bring thee into my mother's house,
[3] Who would instruct me;
I would cause thee to drink of spiced wine,
Of the [4] juice of my pomegranate.
3 [e] His left hand should be under my head,
And his right hand should embrace me.
4 [f] I adjure you, O daughters of Jerusalem,
[5] That ye stir not up, nor awake my love,
Until [6] he please.

5 [g] Who is this that cometh up from the wilderness,
Leaning upon her beloved?

Under the [h] apple-tree I awakened thee:
There thy mother was in travail with thee,
There was she in travail [7] that brought thee forth.

6 Set me as a seal upon thy heart,
As a [i] seal upon thine arm:
For love is strong as death;

[k] Jealousy is [8] cruel as Sheol;
The flashes thereof are flashes of fire,
[9] A very flame of [10] Jehovah.
7 Many waters cannot quench love,
Neither can floods drown it:
If a man would give all the substance of his house for love,
[11] He would utterly be contemned.

8 We have a little sister,
And she [l] hath no breasts:
What shall we do for our sister
In the day when she shall be spoken for?

9 If she be a wall,
We will build upon her [12] a turret of silver:
And if she be a door,
We will enclose her with [m] boards of cedar.

10 I [13] am a wall, and my breasts like the towers thereof:
Then was I in his eyes as one that found peace.
11 Solomon had a [n] vineyard at Baal-hamon;
He [o] let out the vineyard unto [p] keepers;
Every one for the [q] fruit thereof was to bring a [r] thousand pieces of silver.
12 My vineyard, which is mine, is before me:
Thou, O Solomon, shalt have the thousand,
And those that keep the fruit thereof two hundred.

13 Thou that dwellest in the gardens,
The [s] companions hearken [14] for thy voice:
Cause me to hear it.

14 [15] Make haste, my beloved,
And be thou [t] like to a [16] roe or to a young hart
Upon the [u] mountains of spices.
